

“I play hockey and the guys in my league play hard. That means I get hurt every couple of months. I first rang Dr. Miller for a hyper-extended thumb. I was on my way out of town and couldn’t wait hours at an urgent care. I saw Dr. Miller within an hour.”

—Hamish B., President of a small clinical research company, Age 35

No more assembly-line doctor visits.

“I am busy and married with kids. I own my own business. When I have a health issue, I want to be seen that day. The fact that I can call Dr. Miller when I have a problem and be seen that day makes it all worthwhile to me.”

—John H., Lobbyist, Age 46

No more long waits.

“I was having problems with my other doctor and went to see Dr. Miller. I was so glad he took the time to explain what was going on with me. He didn’t rush me and I got all the answers I needed before I left his office.”

—Phyllis A., retired, Age 91

No more rushed care.

“The one-on-one personal attention I have received from Dr. Miller has encouraged me to embark on a new lifestyle of personal wellness and preventative medicine—to face the reality that I was overweight, with high blood pressure and high blood sugar levels. Now with regular check-ups and calls from my personal physician, Dr. Miller, I am 20 pounds lighter and my life, both physically and mentally, has greatly improved.”

—Tom D., Bank President, Age 66

Healthcare

Exceeding expectations, one patient at a time.

The Doctor is always in.

Welcome to healthcare the way it should be.

How many times have you tried to make a doctor's appointment, only to be told the next available one isn't for a few weeks? And how many times have you felt rushed when you did get in – granted a mere five minutes of the doctor's time?

Omega Executive Healthcare puts an end to all this. We offer personalized service called Concierge Medicine – based on the belief that everyone deserves around-the-clock access to healthcare and the undivided attention of a private physician. Think of it as high-quality healthcare the way it used to be... when a doctor saw you the very day you needed it, knew your medical history inside and out, and even made house calls.

Concierge Medicine began in 1996, when the team physician for the NBA's Seattle SuperSonics decided that everyone is entitled to the same level of care professional athletes receive. Now, for the first time ever, it's available in Columbus through Omega Executive Healthcare. Just as the name implies, it really is the perfect solution for busy executives who want to avoid lengthy sick time, stay at the peak of their productivity, and be proactive about their health.

At Omega Executive Healthcare, we treat each patient the way we would a member of our own family. Because we limit our practice to 300 patients per physician, you'll never feel like you're part of an assembly line. Compare that to the typical primary care practice, where 2,000 to 5,000 patients are seen annually.

For an affordable membership fee, you'll receive these exclusive benefits:

- Around-the-clock accessibility to your physician – 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year. You'll even be given your doctor's cell phone number, so you can contact him directly for a phone consultation during non-business hours.
- The convenience of a same-day appointment, no matter when you call. If medically necessary, our doctors even make house visits.
- A NO-WAIT guarantee. As they say, time is money. So we guarantee you'll never have to wait when you come in for a visit with us.
- The most attentive care, during your visit and beyond. You'll have as much time as you need to talk about your health issues. And if an appointment with a specialist is necessary, we'll even accompany you on that visit if you'd like.
- No insurance hassles. By charging a yearly retainer, we can take the insurance company out of the equation. All constraints are eliminated, and we're free to take any measures we need to understand and address the full scope of your medical issues.
- A focus on total health. We believe in preventing conditions before they happen – so we continually offer advice on health matters such as diet and exercise. We also provide helpful prevention tips in a bimonthly newsletter, plus offer the ongoing health and wellness services of partner companies – from yoga classes and nutritional coaching, to physical therapy visits and certified personal training.

Board Certified in Internal Medicine, Dr. Ronald Miller offers more than 20 years experience in the practice. He is the Section Head of Internal Medicine at Riverside Methodist Hospital and the Medical Director of Focus Healthcare, an outpatient drug treatment center. Before becoming a hospitalist with Central Ohio Primary Care (COPC), Dr. Miller was part of a traditional group of physicians. He grew up in Bexley, Ohio and received his undergraduate degree from The Ohio State University and his MD degree from its School of Medicine.

Dr. Doug Katula is also Board Certified in Internal Medicine and a hospitalist with COPC. With more than 15 years experience in the practice and a special interest in Preventative Medicine, Dr. Katula is Assistant Program Director of Internal Medicine at Riverside Methodist Hospital and Medical Director at Laurel's of Worthington. He was born in Poland, Ohio and received his undergraduate degree from Depauw University and his MD degree from The Ohio State University.
